"No matter where you go, or where you end never forget who helped get you there."

“Are We There Yet?”

It seemed that school would forever keep us occupied when we were in first grade ...

“Are We There Yet?”

In sixth grade, we realized we were closer, but still had so far to go ...

“Are We There Yet?”

It seems the time has finally come. Though we are finally “there” the years we’ve shared will never be forgotten!

The theme of Sojourn 2001, “Are We There Yet?” perfectly explains the thoughts of many seniors. It’s been a long journey — full of ups and downs. At times, we wondered how we were ever going to make it, but we did! We are finally “there.” To the right, Devon Almeida captures the seniors’ feelings of the journey and its final end, in a poem.

Please note seniors have shared their favorite memories of getting “there” from these unforgettable years at Norton High School, at the bottom of many pages. We hope you enjoy reading and reflecting on these memories with us.

Are we there yet, my friend?

By: Devon Almeida

*Are we there yet?
How do we judge?
I want to go,
But my heart won't budge*

*Incapable of letting go
Of saying goodbye to all I know
I try to smile and hide what I feel
But my emotions come out and show*

*Are we there yet?
Well where is there?
I'm so anxious inside
And I'm told not to fear*

*How can I not?
I'm starting a journey
I must say goodbye
To those I wish would join me*

*Are we there yet?
It's been full of ups and downs
A ride full of giggles
And full of frowns*

*We've laughed
We've cried
Now we're leaving
And my emotions I can't hide*

*So I ask you this question,
Are we there yet, my friend?
The answer is yes but also is no
We have many miles ahead of us
But yes, this journey has come to an end ...*

*As we come to the fork in our road
We all must go our own way
You've all left footprints upon my heart
That is where the memories will stay*

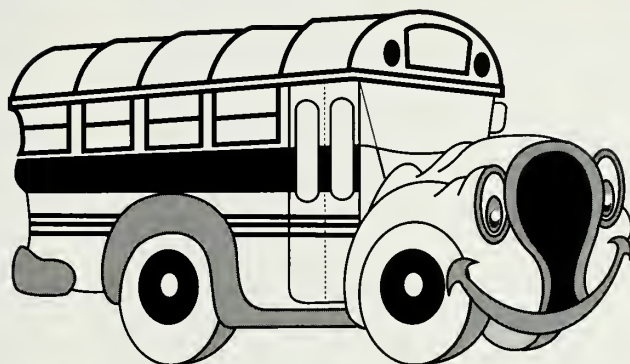

Getting Us There

While working on the faculty section and considering the theme of this year's book — "Are We There Yet?" our first thought was to thank the faculty and staff for without them, getting "there" would be very difficult, maybe even impossible. Members of the faculty and staff have made the journey not only easier but also more fun, and we are very grateful.

As we thought further about the theme, we wondered what "there" might mean or might have meant to members of the staff. We soon learned that to many of our veteran teachers "there" seems to mean retirement. Three retiring faculty members who will be very much missed are Mr. Fredric Bartek, Mr. Howard Kelley, and Mrs. Dolores Robbins. On the next page, these individuals tell us what "there" once meant and what it means now. Throughout the faculty section, other staff members reveal what "there" once meant to them.

Moving Us Along

What was "there" for you before you entered teaching and what is "there" now?

For Mr. Howard Kelley "there" was coaching a world championship team, but Norton kids soon had him convinced that coaching high school athletes was the greatest coaching career anyone could want. Now "there" means golf courses in The South for Mr. Kelley.

For Mrs. Dolores Robbins "there" was to write the great American novel, something in the romance genre, but instead of writing novels, she's spent the years reading themes and papers and bringing out the best writing in others. Now "there" means snowmobiling in Vermont for Mrs. Robbins.

For Mr. Fredric Bartek "there" was owning an asparagus farm with room to have a few sheep. Well, he's taught us about the price of asparagus and now "there" will be dividing his time between Attleboro and Cape Cod and tending his sheep.

With Thanks

We began this section of Sojourn 2001 by noting "where is there" for our three retiring teachers, but we cannot end the faculty section without a tribute to Mr. Fredric Bartek, Mr. Howard Kelley, and Mrs. Dolores Robbins, who together have served NHS for over 100 years! Students of the past thirty years will long remember Mr. Bartek's Socratic method, concern for the price of asparagus, and most importantly his humanitarian side, shown by his involvement with such groups as Oxfam America and Amnesty International and by his regard for individual students. For the past thirty years the name Kelley has been synonymous with Norton High sports, as Mr. Kelley has taught, coached, and advised innumerable athletes of NHS as well as serving as Athletic Director. Basketball Championships and taking NHS to the famous parquet floor of Boston Garden are highlights of Mr. Kelley's career. Last (alphabetically, certainly not in importance!), Mrs. Dolores Robbins' love of literature and writing has inspired many students to treasure the great works and pursue an enlightened path. As advisor to the National Honor Society, Mrs. Robbins has also set the high academic standards of which NHS is proud. For these and so many reasons we thank these three individuals and wish them good luck in their retirement — whether it be snowmobiling through the snow-covered fields of Vermont or swinging clubs on the golf courses of Florida and Cape Cod.

Cruising Along

What was the scariest thing about coming to Norton High School as a freshman?

Brian Bramwell: Learning to eat lunch at 10:26

Steve Perreault and Leigh Arnold: Trying to deal with having older brothers in the twelfth grade.

Joe Frenni: Being the smallest people in school and being susceptible to senior pranks.

Class of 2004

Starting Line

With the assistance of their advisor, Mrs. Godfrey, the freshmen class began their High School voyage. President Justine Precourt, Vice President Anthony Scudere, Secretary Karleen Salley, Treasurer Michael Buswell, Student Advisory John Sears and Coy Graham, and Student Council Representatives Kaitlyn Murphy and Angela Vernalia, guided the class through an exciting year. The freshmen assisted the sophomore class with the Snowball Dance. In February they put many hours into the Valentine's Dance which was enjoyed by all. Several fundraisers were organized. The class of 2004 had a very successful year and are prepared for sophomore year.

Class of 2003 Rounding the Bend

Moving along the road, the class of 2003 has travelled through their sophomore year with the helping hands of the class advisors, Mrs. Mahoney, Mrs. Young, and Mrs. Purdy. These three advisors accomplished much with the assistance of Dan Kelly, President, Mike Newcomb, Vice President, Joe Cummings, Secretary, Andrea Lefrancois, Treasurer, and student council representatives Richard Cannata and Matthew Feldman. Throughout the journey there was the Snowball Dance, which was decorated beautifully. The long hours spent making decorations was evident. Towards the end of the year came the dreaded MCAS. This decided the rest of the trip for all.

appears happy to be almost there.

With the guidance of advisors Mrs. Smith, Miss Remington, Mrs. Fancher, and Mr. Gaudet, the Junior class officers President Leigh Arnold, Vice President Leighanne Brammer, Recording Secretary Erin Russell, Corresponding Secretary Tenara Hruzek, Treasurer Brandon Bettencourt, and Student Council Representatives Nicole Ledbetter and Jenna Summerfield, provided the class with an eventful year. The class worked diligently at fundraisers to ensure a stable financial position for senior year. The Jam'n 94.5 dance was sponsored by the juniors. This dance sparked excitement in the school and with a large turn out, the class made a sizable profit. Members of the prom committee carefully planned the formal dance held at the Canoe Club. Junior year was not all fun and games, however, students took PSAT and SAT exams and began making college decisions. After experiencing such a successful year, the juniors anxiously await their final year at Norton High School.

SPORTS

Racing Towards The End

Seniors gave a variety of answers when asked what "there" would be for them in the field of sports.

Bryan Azevedo sees "there" as being a caddy on the PGA Tour.

Cindy Ravinski's ultimate sports goal is to be on the United States Olympic softball team along with Maggie Spaziano.

Matt Gary envisions being a 6'2", 220 lb. cornerback — a second round draft pick of the New York Giants and playing next to Jason Sehorn. Matt would lead the NFL in interceptions and defensive touchdowns.

The 2000-2001 Norton High Cheerleaders, with their enthusiasm and support, helped lead the Norton football team to an amazing record this past year. The squad's captains: Rebecca Bramwell, Rebecca Glaser, Melissa Maney, and Shannon Maney, along with the outstanding coaching ability of Laura Lee Maddix, have given the students of Norton High a reason to be proud. Last spring the squad won a spot to compete in the State Cheerleading Competition and placed ninth. Along with their participation in competitions, the squad was responsible for the success of this year's pep rally. As the season ends, the cheerleaders of Norton High can look back and only recollect good memories as a group of sisters with the same goal: victory for Norton High.

The Football team finished with an impressive 9-1 record for the year and won the SSL championship (co-champions with Carver). The coaching staff of Keith Gibson, Larry Laroque, Rick Dudley, Ed Potvin, Tim Blake, Bob Molitor, Peter Molitor, and Ed Godin was able to get the most out of its players. The eleven seniors on the team brought an unparalleled level of leadership and poise to the team. Tri-captains Kenyatta Hale, Tim Jardin, and Ryan Rooslet and seniors Rob Leathers, Mike Leroux, Jimmy Patten, Patrick Lehner, Dave Glassman, Justin Rego, Mike McDavitt, and Matt Hillman worked hard throughout the year to put the Lancers on top. The underclassmen also contributed heavily to the team's success by their special team support proving their worth for years to come.

The Norton Lancers boys' soccer team had a lot to live up to after last season's success. New coach, Ed Smith and senior co-captains, Billy Byrnes, Tim LaConte, and Chris Avril led the team in their 8-8-2 season. Although the season started off slowly, the boys came together at the end with their determination. Their record was good enough to earn them a spot in the tournament. The Lancers successfully beat Norfolk Aggie and advanced to the second round of play. This game, against Medway, had a dramatic shoot-out, ending with Medway squeaking out a victory. Despite this ending, the boys proved themselves to be a very talented and dedicated team.

Girls

The Norton High School girls' soccer team led by Scott Dolan and senior captains Sara Beatty, Kerri McGuinness, Anh-Dao Nguyen, and Maggie Spaziano had an unbelievable season. The Lady Lancers had a millenium record of 9-7-2. Norton bumped Norwell out of first place with a stunning victory over the undefeated Clippers. With the help of a strong defense led by Lori Phelan and Michelle Tucker, the Lancers made the first round of the tournament. Takin' It Basket

The Norton Lancers Girls' Varsity Basketball Team can be summed up in two words: togetherness and perseverance. Each of the Lancers wins and losses was fought with incredible effort and teamwork. Although the Lancers did not make it to the tournament this year, every teammate improved and most of all — had fun. The girls, even when facing daunting odds, kept their composure. Head Coach Dave Mollica uses "quotes" to inspire his players for the challenges on the court. Captains Sara Beatty and Beth Lombard, leading by example, took an active role on the floor. Underclassmen took up the challenge of their captains by playing hard at all times.

7th Inning Baseball

The Norton Lancers Boys' Baseball team had a very successful season with a record of fifteen and seven. With the leadership of Coach Dave Mollica and captains Sean Riberio and Sean Auld, the Lancers made it to the second round of the tournament. Some of the highlights of the boys in pin-striped blue were beating Abington (3-2) and Rockland (21-3). One detriment to the season was losing power hitter and threatening pitcher Troy Bouchard to injury. Overall, the Lancers had a great season and look forward to a very promising future with the leadership of captains Troy Bouchard and Timmy LaConte.

Above: Kathy Sisto ponders the next play.

The 1999-2000 softball season was very exciting! Behind the leadership of Coach Keith Gibson and co-captains Kathy Sisto and Marybeth Lima, the Lancers had a record of eight wins and twelve losses. Although the team did not make the tournament, this record did not reflect the spirit of the team. All the girls worked hard and tried their very best in every game. The Lancers were victorious against South Sectional Champion, Cardinal Spellman, handing them their only loss (4-2) of the season. The Lancers then went on to defeat Hockomock League contender, King Philip Regional (4-2) in the final game of the season. The 2000-2001 season looks bright with an experienced team returning, including co-captains Maggie Spaziano, Cindy Ravinski, and Beth Lombard. The team hopes to bring the Norton Lancer Softball team back to the tournament once again!

Girls Track

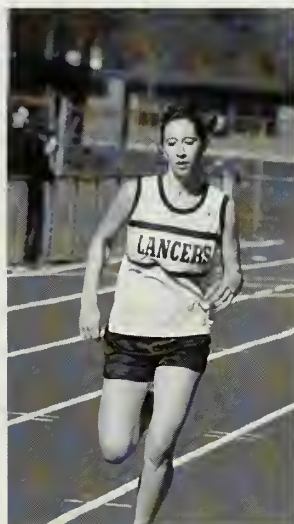

Within the past years, the girls spring track team has improved tremendously. The 2000 season was an impeccable one, with a 5-4 record, the first winning season in many years. Behind the coaching and encouragement of Coach Mark Hudson and co-captains Mel Barney and Megan Orlando, the team proved to be an outstanding success. With the help and effort of League All-Stars Megan Orlando and Elise Pompei, and an undefeated League Champion 4x11 relay team, consisting of Elise Pompei, Meghan O'Donnell, Danielle Braga, and Meghan Malloy, the team pulled through to gain a winning season and looks forward to another one.

The Norton High School boys' tennis team had an unforgettable season under the support of Coach Kuzmich. Consisting of mostly veteran players, the 2000 team confidently played with pride at the state tournament and ended with a 16-5 record. Senior captain Ty Kefor proved to be a significant asset to the team with his powerful serves and strong leadership. Seniors Mat Lemieux and Jeremy Derosier were important key players in the second and third singles positions. Making great contributions to the team's success, Tim Etter and Ryan Dessert dominated as the doubles team, along with Nate Gouveia and Mark Macomber, who also brought victory to Norton. Unfortunately, the upcoming team will suffer a great loss, with all seven seniors gone. However, the 2000 tennis team constructed a solid foundation on which the next team can build from.

Deuce Boys Tennis

The Norton High School girls' tennis team led by first year coach, Everett Clark and senior co-captains Erica Barney and Caroline Kirby, had a much improved season from the previous one. The girls doubled their wins from 3 to 7, with only 9 losses. Antje Grubert, exchange student from Germany, made several contributions as the number one ranked singles player. One of the highlights of the 1999-2000 season was receiving the sportsmanship award from their league. Coming back next season are many experienced players who hope to make an even bigger improvement in their record with the help of co-captains Michelle Tucker and Jessica Barbour.

Tournaments and ...

A tournament bid is an old habit for the well established athletic teams of Norton High School. Earlier in the year, the cheerleaders distinguished themselves as one of the finest squads in the state. They placed ninth in the state meet. The baseball team once again made an aggressive run and qualified for tournament play. This fall, both girls and boys soccer teams displayed a lot of poise in their respective runs for glory as they both were qualifiers. The Volleyball team rounded out an exciting year by qualifying for the tournament. Along with these teams the following individuals were standouts among their respective track and cross country teams by qualifying for the state meet. For the Spring of 2000: Dave Glassman, Kenyatta Hale, Dan Schepis, Steve Walasavage, Matt Fernandes, Joe LaRochelle, Meghan O'Donnell, Julie Stearns, Elise Pompei, Megan Orlando, Jeweline Larson, Meghan Malloy. Cross Country this past fall was represented by Megan Orlando and Courtney Klenk. Winter Track: Ryan Angus, Matt Fernandes, Dan Schepis, Dave Glassman, Steve Walasavage, Paige Parker, Joe LaRochelle, Andy Martin, Jamison Shipley, Dan Doto, Kristen Hurd, Elise Pompei, Cindy Ravinski. As we go to press, the boys basketball team is well on the way to qualifying for the tournament.

The Lancers mount an offensive front.

The senior girls played a major role in the squad's success at the state meet.

There are many things that made this season's football team successful. First and foremost the coaching staff did an excellent job in preparing the team for the upcoming games. Adams Field was the home of the Lancers perhaps for the last year with the coming of the new fields and even so, attendance records were broken from past years. The Lancers capped a 9-1 SSL CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON with last second heroics by Quarterback Ryan Rooselet and Running Back David Glassman in the Thanksgiving Day game against East Bridgewater. The Lancers had to earn everything this season but without a doubt the one thing they earned the most is the respect of the South Shore League for years to come.

Coaches

Although Mr. Howard Kelley has been honored in other parts of this book, we cannot end the sports section without once more expressing our gratitude to Mr. Kelley, fondly called "H" by the students of Norton High. He has coached our athletes, counseled our students, and contributed to their well-being in countless ways. Mr. Kelley will be sorely missed, but the championship banners that adorn the gym wall, the condition of and improvements to Norton athletic facilities and programs, and the respect which Norton teams have garnered in the local sports area will serve as reminders of Mr. Kelley's dedication and keep him in the hearts and memories of Norton students for years to come.

Activities & Organizations

Q: What is the most important NHS club to you and why?

A: Jenna Cullinane's most important activity is Best Buddies because she feels wonderful about the students' involvement with the STEP program.

Student Council is the most important to Dan Kelly because he wants to have "an ill senior year," and can achieve this by participating in fundraisers and class activities.

Seth Farrell enjoys math team because it is challenging and it is a fun way for him to be involved with the school.

Sojourn 2001

The staff of Sojourn 2001 began this year with a long road ahead of them, but with the encouragement of Miss Clancy and Mrs. Farrell the deadlines just flew by. Leading the chronicling of the year's events, editor-in-chief Devon Almeida, and assistant editors Kathleen Devlin, Jacob Crowe, Steven Walasavage, and Danielle Braga help capture their last year of school in this memorable edition. The numerous hours spent carefully designing pages and creating witty captions were eased with the assistance of underclassmen Allison Fahey, Courtney Klenk, and Catherine Schreiber.

Norton High School's chapter of the National Honor Society, under the much-appreciated guidance of Mrs. Robbins, has certainly been busy this year. With the leadership of Steve Walasavage, Wendy Winslow, Beth Lombard, and Anh-Dao Nguyen, however, the road was a little less bumpy. A special guest of Olympic quality spoke a few words at the inductions, where thirteen students became new members to the NHS. The Society almost immediately thereafter packed up and headed to New York City, land of Skyscrapers and Rolex watches. In early January, a College Day event, with a surprising turnout of last year's seniors, was arranged and carried out by the National Honor Society. Most recently, the society assembled "Midterm Survival Kits", small plastic bags with Lifesavers, Hershey's Hugs and Kisses, and Smarties, to help the incoming freshman deal with the stress of midterms. As could be expected, the National Honor Society has demonstrated and will continue to display the ideals of moral and intellectual character that have attained a high place in our society at large.

La Bocacalle de Lenguas

The Alonso Quijana chapter of the Spanish Honor Society, with the assistance of Mrs. Godfrey, has been hard at work encouraging the use of the Spanish language throughout Norton High School and the world. Last year, the Society held Latin dance lessons for interested members; those who attended certainly had a ball. This year, with the help of officers Jacob Crowe, Jessica Barbour, Elizabeth Lombard, and Danielle Braga, the Society kept to the theme of dancing by hosting the annual fall Semi-Formal. These students are, to quote an overused adjective, "bueno".

Le Carrefour des Langues

In the third year since its inception, the French Honor Society, under the supervision of Mrs. Penza, has continued to extend an accepting attitude toward Francophones worldwide. President Kathleen Devlin as well as officers Anh-Dao Nguyen, Cynthia Ravinski, and Candice Muller, welcomed a new group of four students on induction night, doubling the former number of members. They dove right into planning the Semi-Formal in conjunction with the Spanish Honor Society, and the night was an astounding success. In recent months, the Society has tutored fellow French class members, showing that they do indeed display the helpful outlook on life for which the French are famous.

The road less traveled

The Grace B. Kiernan chapter of the Quill & Scroll Honor Society represents some of the most hard-working students at Norton High School. Led by officers Devon Almeida, Jacob Crowe, Kathleen Devlin, and Jamison Shipley, this Society knows the value of integrity in journalism and all other writing forms. Comprised of members of the Lance, Local Colour, and Sojourn (our newspaper, literary magazine, and yearbook, respectively), Quill & Scroll works hard with its advisor, Mrs. Smith, to sponsor and take part in literary events year-round.

On a lighter note

Chapter 2838 of the Tri-M Music Honor Society is undoubtedly one of the more noted honor societies at Norton High School. Although the officers, Stephen Walasavage, Jenna Summerfield, Lyndsay Scarpetti, and Leigh Arnold conduct the meetings, the assistance of advisor Mrs. Remick is duly valued. The Society, along with singing and playing at many school functions, takes frequent trips to music-related sites, such as the organ in the Wheaton College chapel. In addition, this spring Tri-M hosted its second annual Talent Show, which was most successful. With its generous mix of chorus and band members as well as a few honorary faculty members, Tri-M constantly reminds us all of that language which can be spoken anywhere and at any time: music.

Making a Joyful Noise

"Do you hear the people sing, singing the song of happy men?" the Norton High School chorus crooned as they discovered they would be performing a medley of songs from "Les Misérables" at the annual Spring Concert. After celebrating their most successful Holiday Concert to date, featuring such songs as "You're A Mean One, Mr. Grinch", in honor of the release of "How The Grinch Stole Christmas", and the traditional "Hallelujah" with the help of pianist Mrs. Russell, new director Mrs. Allen congratulated the chorus by announcing the exciting repertoire of the Spring Concert. In addition to "Les Miz", they also performed "Mi Yitneni Of", a traditional Jewish song, and, for something different, the classic rock anthems "Revolution" and "Bohemian Rhapsody". Despite the loss of 5 seniors, including President Kathy Devlin and Vice President Kate Perry, Candice Muller, Danny Neveu, and Sarah Vigue with the graduation of the Class of 2001, the chorus looks forward to continuing on its journey down the road to stardom.

Concert Band

The Norton High School concert band, under the direction of Ms. Remick, remains one of the busiest non-academic classes in the school. Starting each period with a couple of tunes from their warm-up books, the students then proceed to practice, as a group, their current pieces. Through toil and torment, they work the music to perfection, following the conductor's arm movements precisely. Finally, at the end of each forty-five or ninety minute period, the students eagerly put away their instruments for another day. The concert band plays popular classical music pieces at both the spring and winter concerts, this year choosing "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach and "Black Horse Troop March" by Sousa. The band also competed at the annual MICCA festival this March; and of course, the concert band will play "Pomp and Circumstance" at graduation this year at the Tweeter Center.

The Norton High School Lancer Marching Band is an extension of the concert band program that practices and performs from mid August to Thanksgiving. Under the guidance of Drum Major Jewelene Larson and Assistant Drum Major Lisa Goodman, the band performed its fifth successful season with Band Director Ms. Paula Remick. Colorguard Captain Kathy Devlin, Percussion Leader Chris Buswell, and Featured Twirler Candice Muller also helped lead the band into what had to have been their best season yet, playing and twirling in complex formations to Santana's "Smooth" and "Cleveland Rocks", the theme song from "The Drew Carey Show" during half-time at home football games. The band celebrated the end of the season with the banquet, held as always at the Norton Country Club. It was both a cheerful and tearful night as members Candice Muller, Chris Buswell, Justin Cinelli, Andrew Cohen, Lisa Goodman, and Jewelene Larson received their jackets, commemorating 3 years in band, and as everyone said goodbye to the five graduating bandoes.

Composed of a mix of very talented high school girls, the Competition Majorettes proved to be very successful in bringing home trophies and creating new memories. The girls compete from mid-February until early April, traveling to area towns for seven Sundays for all day events and competing against many other squads. Advised and coached by Kristen Matteson, the "A" Squad performed week after week to a "Disco Diva" medley. These girls started their season with a first place trophy and ended their season just the same. They did their groove thing to second place overall in the "A" Squad division at championships. The open squad, who performed to a "Game Time" theme, enjoyed much of the same success as the "Disco Divas", fighting hard to score 3rd place overall at championships. Stretching from October to April, the girls work hard to bring home trophies and to have fun.

The Pep Club showed their spirit by organizing the fall pep rally and bonfire, which supported the football team. It was extra special this year because the rally inspired the football team to beat East Bridgewater for the first time in years during the final Thanksgiving game. This year's rally was significant because each class designed a wall in the gym. Covered with lights and colorful paper, the senior's wall won for creativity that supported all fall sports. Also, the dance-off brought fun to the rally. The volleyball team won for their amazing performance. The Pep Club successfully brought spirit to Norton High.

The Silver Screen

The Drama Club put on an excellent performance of "My Very Own Story" this year. Made up of talented young actors and actresses, the Drama Club was lead by Mr. Miller and senior president Diana Morton. The Norton High thespians decided when to put on plays, plan auditions, and schedule rehearsals. These future Broadway stars are bound to be a success in the future!

The Leaders of the Future

With the assistance of Mr. Jackson, President Rebecca Glaser, and Vice President Devon Almeida, the Student Council had a successful year. They sponsored the annual spirit week with such days as pajama day and inside out and backwards day. With the assistance and enthusiasm of all the members, Devon Almeida started the Angels Society, which proved to be very successful. Donated goods went to local communities and people in need. Through the Santa Drive, the Student Council was able to raise more than $1,000 to buy gifts for young children who otherwise wouldn't get any presents for Christmas. Mr. Jackson's first year as advisor to Student Council was a successful and an enjoyable experience.

Mrs. Hansen pauses while on her way to a Peer Leader meeting.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Hansen and Miss Cardoza, Peer Leaders spent their time reaching out to students and enriching student life. They produced red ribbons bearing the MADD logo for every car in the parking lot; these ribbons were a supplement to a poem read by two members over the PA system about the consequences of drunk driving. The Peer Leaders also organized an MTV presentation of "The Big Picture" to stress the importance of making good decisions for the future. Reaching out into the community, the Peer Leaders gave a single parent family a Christmas they otherwise wouldn't have had.

Joining Together To Make Peace

Led by Co-Presidents Candice Muller and Sarah Vigue, Amnesty International had another successful year. Advisor Mr. Fred Bartek helped to organize the annual Oxfam Hunger Banquet to help students understand the pain of hunger experienced by millions. Amnesty also sent their Urgent Action letters out to help those unfairly imprisoned in other countries. Amnesty International will most definitely be back to fight human injustices for many years to come.

The Norton Diversity Alliance, or NDA, commemorated its second year in existence at Norton High with many changes. While meetings were still held in Room 212 under the direction of advisors Ms. Cardoza and Mrs. Penza and President Patti O'Brien, many other important changes were made. Formerly the Gay-Straight Alliance, or GSA, NDA also changed its focus to encompass all issues and students. These changes were welcomed with open arms as the group became an important part of Norton activities.

Getting together once a month for special holidays and occasions, the Best Buddies club has developed new friendships that have made our journey through high school both memorable and fun. With the guidance of the advisor Mrs. Arruda and officers Anh-Dao Nguyen, Kendra Champagne, Jessica Barbour, and Cailin McLaughlin, the buddies engaged in basketball and soccer tournaments, as well as sing-a-longs during luncheons. The relationships between the STEP kids and other high school students have made everlasting friendships that will forever guide them along the way. Besides, where would we be without friendship?

SENIORS ONLY!

As senior events filled the year with fun and excitement, the class of 2001 came together as a whole. For such activities as the Cruise, Sysco Fundraiser, and the Senior Class Play. One of the most memorable nights for seniors was the night of the cruise. Sailing around Boston Harbor, the seniors danced their heart away on a rockin' ship. As the ship sailed away, many seniors had tears in their eyes because soon all seniors would be sailing in their own direction. Community service plays a big part in Norton High School. Acting as Santa's helper for the children of Sysco workers, the students worked at game booths, dressed as famous characters and handed out candy. Although the day was hard work, it provided both laughs and memories. The Senior Class Play "Love, Death, and the Prom," portrays all of the fun and heart-breaking memories that occur on our journey through high school. As the journey of high school comes to a close, many seniors can relate to love, heartbreak, death, cheating, and the biggest high school concern: who he/she is going to the prom with!

The freshmen and sophomore Snow Ball was a night to remember for many of the underclassmen. As they gathered in the cafeteria, they spent the night dancing to many of their new and old favorite songs. Girls in their glittery dresses and guys in their sharp suits created an aura of excitement and festivity. As the first high school dance for the freshmen, they now know what to look forward to in their future years.

The Time of My Life

As Juniors and Seniors gathered together for a night of wonderful laughs and memories, they danced the night away at the Taunton Holiday Inn. The theme, the Time of My Life, applied to many students, as they did indeed have the time of their lives. With great food, a bouncing, vibrating dance floor and friends, it became a magical night for everyone.

As the 2000 Junior-Senior prom commenced, many of the students of Norton High School began to realize the end of their high school journey was drawing near and relished in both new and old friendships. The laughs and tears that were shared that night, will forever remain a part of the 2000 prom, as the students danced and dined. The prom king and queen, Tim Etter and Corin Jackson, led their classmates through an enchanting night of dancing and fun.

STOPS ALONG THE WAY

Q: What is your most colorful memory of High School?

A: Sean Gallagher's most colorful memory was Matt Araujo's election speech with music and candy.

Beth Lombard's most colorful memory was dancing at the prom and seeing the colorful array of pastel gowns.

of 2004...freshmen...Class of 2004...

The Stops Along the Way to senior year include grades 9, 10, 11. At times it seems that grade 12 will never come and freshmen traveling the new and confusing corridors for the first time are stuck in a No Passing Zone. Grade 9 also brings the first experience with mid-year and final exams along with many new activities to join. One year does eventually yield to another and grade 10 begins.

Grade 10 means moving along, growing up, often getting a job and in general, expanding one's world. Sophomores become more involved in sports and activities, especially the annual Snowball Dance. Academically the year includes much preparation for the MCAS, which comes at the end of the year, a forerunner to the various tests which juniors and seniors face Entering the next two years.

"Excuse me, I'm trying to concentrate here!" thinks Christine Walasavage.

Junior year brings exciting stops and changes — AP classes, jobs, cars, key positions on sports teams, PSAT's and SAT's, opportunities to join groups and serve others. The most important stop of junior year is undoubtedly the prom — an evening that is looked forward to throughout the year. This prom along with many other junior year activities provides many wonderful moments for Norton traveling through the school zone.

A large group of students, approximately 50-60 in total, are posed in a gymnasium for a group photograph. They are arranged in several rows, with some students standing on a raised platform or bleachers in the back. The students are dressed in casual attire, including t-shirts, sweatshirts, and jeans. A prominent student in the middle row wears a white t-shirt with the number '15' and the word 'CHAMP' above it. The gymnasium floor is polished wood, and the background shows the typical structure of a school gym, including walls and possibly a basketball hoop out of frame. The overall tone of the photo is candid and captures a moment of school spirit.

A most enjoyable stop is the number of dances along the way. These include such magical evenings as the prom, semi-formal, and Snowball Dance as well as homecoming and many other dances sponsored by classes throughout the year. The formal ones provide an opportunity to dress up, feel special, and perhaps even ride in a limo while all of the others provide a chance to dance to great music and have fun with friends.

END OF THE LINE

Q: Where is "there" for you?

A: For Patrick Lehner "there" is a Hawaiian beach front vacation home with lots of sports cars in the driveway and a fifty foot yacht anchored offshore.

For Anh Dao Nguyen "there" is when she can say to herself, "Wow! I remember doing this with my parents" or "I sound like my mom." ... when I can teach my kids what my parents have taught me.

For Billy Byrnes "there" is he realizes he has finally made it in life — probably in about ten years — and starting and supporting a family.

Thyme and a Bird

Forever gently sailing on the zephyrs of our minds
We seem to find the journey's a bit tougher than it looked.
Facing obstacles and detriments of many different kinds
We sometimes waver, falter, wonder if our schedule's booked.

Akin to birds we are, you see.
Our sojourn really has no end.
Like them, we travel, back and forth aloft with ample time to spend.

The key to life's parade, it seems,
lies not in lighting fires
nor reading books
nor speaking words
nor reaching one's desires.

It lies in feeling every day the voyage in our bones, in tasting well the wild breeze, and resting sound at home.
It lies in skipping on the path, and, too, in skipping stones, in smiling well at all we meet, wherever we may roam.

The key to life's parade is in the garnish of the day where parsley, garlic, nutmeg, thyme, and various others lay.
Smell keen their biting odors during sorrow, pain, and strife, and yet again you'll find you've found the miracles of life.

Favorites of the Class of 2001

This year's favorites reflect the past as well as the present as we wanted to include the various favorites of the Class of 2001 along the way to getting "there."

Some past favorites are very definite, especially in the area of style where pegged pants and various types of "big hair" including "puffy bangs" or "big bangs" won many votes and brought back many fond memories. Other definite favorites along the road included the television show Saved by the Bell, popular in the mid 90's, and the band New Kids on the Block, popular in the early 90's. In contrast to these two choices and indicative of the different paths taken by class members, the favorite song of the past is Ice Ice Baby, also popular in the early 90's.

Other stops along the road were not quite so definite, but Tupac is the favorite past singer of some while the votes for a favorite movie of the past brought back memories of such favorites as Grease and the Rocky movies. Despite the great number of choices, the final vote for favorite book of the past was Goosebumps, which brought back many fond memories of childhood.

As we grew and moved further along the road to "there," Goosebumps was replaced by such classics Hamlet and The Hobbit. Not only did reading favorites change along the way but the past favorite saying, "awesome," was replaced by the current favorite "Whassup?" The Mall has replaced Toys R Us as our current favorite shopping place, but there were still some votes for Toys R Us in the current favorite category (not quite ready to leave our toys along the road??).

In voting for current favorites the class moved in many directions including stopping to watch favorite current movies American Pie, Scream, and Gladiator and television shows The Simpsons and Dawson's Creek. There is no favorite song on the current road as no single song received enough votes to be considered favorite. N' Sync is the favorite band, while Britney Spears is top among many favorite singers. Bell bottom pants and long straight hair have replaced the favorite pegged pants and "big hair" of the past.

One unifying element that brings together the past and the present as well as uniting all members of the class of 2001 is the favorite food of both past and present and probably future — PIZZA!!

We hope these favorites have brought back some pleasant memories about the stops along the road to "there."

ON OUR JOURNEY

Friends Forever

Q: What is your definition of friendship?

A: Tim Dalpe describes friendship as "a long lasting bond where two people can really understand each other."

"It is a tie between two people that is very unique and special," replies Lisa Lehr.

To Laurenn Williams friendship is "an open window to each other's souls that survives the calm and rough weather in our lives."

What has kept you on the road to friendship for so long?

When you are content to be alone, it is then that you can learn to be with others, it's all about loving yourself!

To My Classmates:

As editor of the yearbook, I would like to take this opportunity to reflect on the journey we've taken together. The past thirteen years of school have represented a trip we've all taken together. It has been an adventure with many stops along the way.

These stops we've made along this road have significantly shaped and affected us. We can never forget the semis, proms, plays, games, activities, and academics that have brought us together as a class. Each of these things has helped us to grow and develop wonderful friendships that will stay with us always.

Our class was, many times, subjected to change. We were shifted to the middle school when we were in 5th grade, so just when we thought we would be the "big kids," we were back to being the youngest in the school. Later as we anxiously awaited 8th grade when we would rule the school, we were again moved to another school. It was then that we came here, to the high school. It seemed as if it would be forever until we would be the oldest in the school. Suddenly, and without warning, that time came and we were finally the seniors! We made it!

The theme of this yearbook, "Are We There Yet," explains so much. This thought has swarmed through our heads for so many years. It entered our minds in those days when it seemed that graduation was just something to dream about. Finally, it's here! But more importantly it represents all that we have accomplished both as a class, and as individuals. The yearbook staff worked countless hours to put this book together. We tried so hard to ensure that it be successful in capturing us at our best! We hope that turning the page will bring many wonderful memories as you reflect upon the wonderful events that took place, things that were accomplished, and honors that were achieved.

So when you ask yourself if you're there yet, you can proudly say yes. Just look at all we have accomplished ... but we're not completely "there" yet. Everyone has a destiny to face and dreams to live out. When all our dreams have been accomplished, and the stars have been reached, it is then that we will truly be "there." So we are "there" but we still have more roads to travel, we have to come to a fork in the road. Each of us will take a different route, and some day, when the roads intersect, we will meet again. Until that time, I wish each of you the best of luck and all the happiness in the world. Keep your foot on the gas pedal and find your "there." And no matter where you end, never forget where you began!

These years have been a pleasure and an adventure. The road hasn't always been smooth, but we made it! Be proud of what you've accomplished, be proud of who you are, and may this be the end of something wonderful, and the start of something even better!

Q: What businesses would you like to see opened in Norton?

A: Steve Walasavage — I think Norton needs a skyscraper, full of lots of businesses, just to set the town apart. I'd like that.

Ms. Janet Farrell — I wish Norton had a movie theater with all the latest films.

Meghan Lank — I believe Norton needs more businesses for student employment opportunities

Good-bye & Good Luck from Faculty & Staff

Miss Carney: To all of our seniors, may all of your wishes come true.

Mr. Jackson: Have a bright and wonderful future.

Mrs. Arruda: To my senior gals — I will miss your smiling faces. Keep up the hard work, we'll miss you.

Mr. Kelley: Good Luck Seniors!

Mrs. Dolores Robbins: Congratulations and Good Luck!

Mrs. Mackinder: Remember the most significant political lesson of your senior year in high school — the importance of one vote. Good health, much happiness to all!

Mr. Miller: Picasso noted, "Art is a lie that enables us to realize the truth." But how can we see if we don't practice seeing or interpreting experiences both lived and played. I believe Dr. Seuss was right, "Young cat! If you keep your eyes open enough, oh, the stuff you will learn! The most wonderful stuff." So search for the full meaning and stay in character.

Miss Oddi: Good luck seniors — paint your future with lots of color!

Mrs. Rogers: Seniors — Remember it isn't your IQ that counts as much as I Will. Good luck to all of you.

Mrs. Vital: Best of luck in all your future endeavors.

Mrs. Hensley: Carpe diem!

Mrs. Young and Mrs. Ardagna: "You have brains in your head, You have feet in your shoes, You can steer yourself, Any direction you choose!" Dr. Seuss Best wishes class of 2001!

Mrs. Smith: Hold fast to your dreams — Congratulations!

Mr. Gaudet: Dear Seniors, Thank you for the privilege of being a small part of your lives. Best wishes for your future, remember to eat lots of waffles.

Mrs. Taylor: Conquer the World!!!

Mrs. Hansen: Congratulations, and lots of luck.

Miss Cardoza: Best Wishes to the Class of 2001!

Mrs. Gibson: Good luck in the future.

Mr. Smith: To all the seniors I've known within my short time here, Thank You for welcoming me and good luck in the future.

Mrs. Martin: May you find the answers to all your questions!

Mrs. Russell: "Be not afraid of growing slowly, be afraid only of standing still." — Chinese proverb

Mrs. Gagnon: "And let today embrace the past with remembrance and the future with longing." Kahlil Gibran

Mrs. Godfrey: Espero que tengan la oportunidad de viajar y practicar su español. Les recordaré y extrañaré mucho. ¡ Felicidades y Buena Suerte!

Mr. Dery: Congratulations & Best Wishes!

Mrs. D'Onofrio: Best of Luck Seniors.

Mr. Bartek: "Fame is the thirst of youth." Byron

Madame Penza: Que vos vies soient des rêves accomplis.

Mrs. Reddy: Best of Luck, Graduates. Enjoy Life!

Mr. & Mrs. Philip Boucher: Best wishes to the first graduating class of the new millennium.

Mrs. O'Donnell: Good Luck Seniors! For you I will forever be Miss Hartel.

Mr. & Mrs. Peter Holster: Congratulations and Good Luck!

Mr. Leddy: Good Luck Senior Volleyball Players; Mel, Beth, Cailin, Jessica, Danielle, Stephanie and Devon. Good Luck Class of 2001!

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Gibson: Congratulations to the Class of 2001. Good Luck in the Future!

Mr. Plasko: Learning and living are one and the same, so go everywhere, see everything and meet everyone. Congratulations and enjoy your life everyday.

Miss Cram: Congratulations Class of 2001 and Good Luck!

Mrs. Purdy: Congratulations & Good Luck! May all of your future dreams come true!

Mr. Brassard: Best Wishes! From — Trouble, Emrld, Bear, Taffey, Twinkie, Moxie, Cupcake, Fancis, Baby, Shadow, Molly, Simon, Dolly, Joey, Danielle, Oscar, Ashley, Ginger & Spike

Ragsie & Sissy: Good Luck!! We wish you many treats along the road.

Pammy- Bercuttis

Courtney- "You met
Bo Jackson?"

Chris- Keep working on the BSB dance

Sara B- pick-ups at Morin's

- From the time we were little the trouble commenced.
Two friendly neighbors with yards never fenced.
- For sports we did everything from dance to softball
Your not getting that sticker never mattered at all.
- My hair was kept short, I stood a year younger
Back in the day, Whooten macaroni filled our hunger.

- Inseparable and never apart, we played downstairs for days
Still gets me mad when I think of not swimming at the Hayes.
- Hours on the trampoline spent jumping and talking.
Not to mention the problems solved by all our walking.
- It didn't stop us that I became a Shamrock.
Still went on ski trips, partied, snuck to the dock.
- Never forget clubbing, Superman, CD, and Flex.
Nor the many missed curfews and driving the Lex.
- Our summer at Bose, Bobo, the scooter I bought.
All these crazy memories have taught me a lot
- About finding a true friend who's consistently true.
Never til now was I worried about my good-byes to you.
- With these memories, and all those unsaid
Your senior year comes to a bitter-sweet end.
- Thank you for everything and know that I love you-
-Remember me always- Your very best friend.

*The awkward years have hurried by
Oh, why must these years be gone
The memories of these special years
In my mind will live on and on*

*So dear to me, these precious memories
Of Hampton Beach and Diamond Hill
All grown up in the world outside
Will you remember still*

*For my sake time shall not revert
A wishful thought of vast
To grant you valor to fulfill your dreams
Is now all one may ask*

*Your virtue is admired and respected
As are your beauty and charm
I pray with every inch of my soul
You will never come to harm*

*Do not rove, my dearest Melissa
From the path unknown to you
Emanate your best and do your best
As I've always known you to do*

*Wind at your back, sun on your face
Go now with these words of true
May you always know deep in your heart
I'm so very proud of you*

*With my deepest love

Election 2000

George W. Bush selects Dick Cheney, former Wyoming representative, and former secretary of defense as his vice-presidential running mate on the Republican ticket.

The 2000 presidential election was in many ways decided by not just the voters but the courts. Five weeks after election day, the US Supreme Court blocked Al Gore's request to have disputed Florida ballots recounted. George W. Bush and Dick Cheney won the election after being awarded Florida's 25 electoral votes.

Antiquated voting methods in this age of technology threw the presidential election into turmoil. Punch card ballots, and the accompanying "Volomatic" system were first created in the 1960s. Disputed ballots had chads, or paper fragments hanging from the punch card that made it difficult for voting machines to read the ballots.

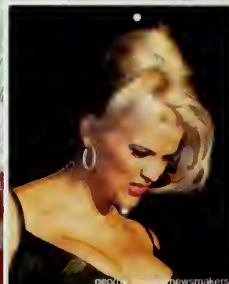

Poinstaking manual recounts are performed by several Florida counties.
